Oregon Democrats Make a Statement to Cleveland.

THEY MUST HAVE THE OFFICES

General Grant Now in a Fair Way of Recovering—The [illegible] not [illegible] Railroad News Items, Etc.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—Democrats of Oregon report to the president that they [illegible] the last legislature and this [illegible] senator to fill out the term now [illegible] because of the neglect [illegible] [illegible] the tenth district [illegible] federal [illegible] of their [illegible]. [illegible] the president that several [illegible] officials of [illegible] and dominate the republican politics of that state; that they control the [illegible] and are now laboring in behalf of the republican party. It is charged that the arbitrary [illegible] of this clique of officials really caused the breach in the republican party which prevented the election of a senator [illegible]. The president has been advised also that Portland federal officials are now endeavoring to persuade Governor Moody to convene the legislature in special session for the sole purpose of another effort to force in the Dolphs and elect a senator, but the governor refuses to issue a call unless an agreement is entered into beforehand that a senator shall be chosen.

Democrats contend that the removal of obnoxious federal officials will give them a fair chance in the next election, and that with such a chance they can carry the legislature. The president has requested that charges against the officials complained of be put in writing, with details of their interference in elections, and it is the purpose of democrats of Oregon to fully comply with the request.

CLEVELAND ADDRESSES COLORED MINISTERS.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—Delegates to the African Methodist Zion conference, which has been in session in this city, called upon President Cleveland to-day, and in response to an address the president replied substantially as follows: "Bishop [illegible] and gentlemen of the conference: I am very much pleased to see you here, and am exceedingly gratified with the address which has just been delivered. I am glad to know that this goodly number represents such a large portion of my fellow citizens belonging to a particular race. As religious teachers your mission is a most important one and one which cannot be ignored and should not be underestimated by the chief magistrate nor by any other person holding official place. In the church and the Sunday school we are taught religion, good morals, honesty and proper regard for established authority, all of which are exceedingly necessary to good citizenship. You have seen fit to refer to the democratic party to which I belong. My conception of democratic principles embraces equal rights and privileges to all who are citizens of the United States, and I am glad to know that in the endeavor to enforce such principles I shall have your confidence and support. I am pleased to greet you all and take you by the hand."

A PLACE FOR CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

WASHINGTON, April 1[illegible].—Secretary Manning to-day appointed B. Frank Abbett of New Jersey chief of division in the office of auditor of the treasury for the postoffice department, vice Wilda [illegible] of Maryland, resigned by request. The appointee is a brother of Governor Abbett of New Jersey. Manning's action in thus filling the office by appointment from the outside instead of by promotion is regarded as important by civil service reformers, since it is thought to be an indication of the policy which the administration will pursue with reference to filling the places of chiefs of divisions. Efforts have been made, it is said, to induce the president to amend the civil service rules so as to make chiefs of divisions among officers whose places will be filled by examination and promotion, but so far without success.

[illegible] RULE.

WASHINGTON, April 1[illegible].—Postmaster General Vilas has issued a [illegible] of rules governing the appointment of postoffice inspectors. These rules, after setting forth [illegible] application, declare that candidates must pass an examination before the board before appointment by the postmaster general; that appointments will be made in order of merit and for six months on probation, appointment to depend on efficiency. Other influences than that of competency are eliminated or will be considered as unfavorably affecting the candidate's chances for appointment. Inspectors are expected to perform their duty, not merely relying upon the support of the postmaster general against outside influence.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—The president this afternoon made the following appointments: W. H. Franklin of Warrensburg, Missouri, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the territory of New Mexico; Henry H. Robson of Denver, Colorado, to be United States district attorney for the district of Colorado, vice A. W. [illegible], removed.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—Colonel [illegible] M. Morgan has been appointed consul-general at M[illegible]. He is a native of [illegible] and after the late civil war was a planter in South Carolina. He also served at one time on the staff of the Khedive in Egypt with Stone, Loring and Long.

PRESIDENTIAL PROCLAMATION

Lands Recently Restored to the Public Domain Returned to Indians.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].—President Cleveland to-day issued the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, By an executive order bearing date of the 27th day of February, 1885, it was ordered that all that tract of country in the territory of Dakota known as the old Winnebago reservation and the Sioux or Crow creek reservation, and lying on the east bank of the Missouri river, set apart in reserves by an executive order dated January 11, 1875, and which is not covered by the executive order dated August 9, 1879, restoring certain of the lands reserved by the order of January 11, 1875, except the following described tracts: [illegible] north, range [illegible] west; 108 north, range 73 west; fractional township 108 north, range 74 west; west half of section 4, sec[illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] township 10[illegible] north, range [illegible] west [illegible] be restored to the public domain; and

WHEREAS, Upon the claim being made that said order is illegal and in violation of the plighted faith and obligations of the United States contained in treaties heretofore entered into with the Indians [illegible], and that further execution of said order will not only occasion much distress and suffering to the peaceable Indians, but retard the work of their civilization and engender among them distrust of the national government, I have determined after careful examination of the several treaties, acts of congress and other official data bearing on the subject, aided and assisted therein by the advice and opinion of the attorney-general of the United States duly rendered, that the lands so proposed to be restored to the public domain by said executive order of February 27, 1885, are included in the existing Indian reservations on the east bank of the Missouri river by the terms of the second article of the treaty with the Sioux Indians concluded April 29, 1868, and that consequently, being treaty reservations, the executive had no lawful power to restore them to the public domain by said executive order, which is therefore deemed and considered to be wholly inoperative and void; and

WHEREAS, The laws of the United States provide for the removal of all persons residing or being found upon Indian lands and territory without permission expressly and legally obtained of the interior department: Now, therefore, in order to maintain inviolate the solemn pledges and plighted faith of the government as given in the treaties in question, and for the purpose of properly protecting the interests of the Indian tribes as well as the United States in the premises, and to the end that no person or persons may be induced to enter upon said lands, where they will not be allowed to remain without the permission aforesaid, I, Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, do hereby declare and proclaim said executive order of February 27, 1885, to be in contravention of treaty obligations of the United States with the Sioux tribe of Indians, and therefore to be inoperative and of no effect.

And I do further declare that lands intended to be embraced therein are existing Indian reservations and as such available for Indian purposes alone.

I do further warn and admonish every person or persons now in occupation of said lands, under color of said executive order, and all such person or persons as are intending or preparing to enter and settle upon the same thereunder, that they will neither be permitted to remain thereon nor enter upon said lands, and such persons as are already there are hereby required to vacate and remove therefrom with their effects within sixty days from the date hereof, and in due regard for and vindication of the laws and treaties of the United States this admonition and warning is given, [illegible] the power of the government will be employed to carry into proper execution the treaties and laws of the United States herein referred to.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 17th day of April, 1885, and of the independence of the United States of America the 109th.

By the president: GROVER CLEVELAND.
T. F. BAYARD, Secretary of State.

GENERAL GRANT

Rapidly Improving and Likely to Recover—A Wonderful Improvement.

NEW YORK, April [illegible], 9 A. M.—General Grant has had a very refreshing sleep. He says he is better than for many nights, and feels strong enough to get up and dress for the day. He is taking his nourishment with but little pain in swallowing, and has not since midnight been disturbed by coughing. [illegible] and ten [illegible] unchanged.

General Grant's progress towards convalescence for the past two days has been phenomenal. His physicians now openly express the opinion he will recover. Dr. Shrady said he was prepared for any change, but did not anticipate any at present, though it would be premature to say that the general was out of danger. He felt very hopeful of the future. Senator Chaffee went into the house at [illegible]. He denies it understood he did not [illegible] say that the doctors did not know what was the matter with the general, but that they might be mistaken in their diagnosis.

General Grant had a morning free from any uncomfortable symptoms. His general condition does not vary much but [illegible] from that noted in the previous statement.

PHYSICIANS' BULLETIN.

11:30 P. M.—General Grant passed most of the evening in the library with his family. He retired at 10 o'clock. He had some pain in his throat, but was not troubled in swallowing. He is now sleeping quietly. J. H. DOUGLAS, M. D.

[illegible] NOT CANCER.

The World says: Grant's cancer will perhaps turn out to be as imaginary as the bullet which the learned doctors were certain they found lodging in the murdered Garfield's groin.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS

PATTI'S FAREWELL APPEARANCE.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Mme. Patti's farewell appearance at the opera festival [illegible] Marguerite in Faust drew a crowd that filled the immense auditorium to overflowing. Though a heavy rain fell most of the day and during the performance, the seats were all filled and the standing room as densely packed as at any time since the opening. The audience was more than usually demonstrative. At the close of the third act Patti was forced to respond to four recalls. The audience also evinced its appreciation of Mme. Scalchi and Nicolini. A report that Mme. Patti, by advice of her physician, had decided not to fill her New York engagement, but to return shortly to Europe, is now denied. Her secretary, who was seen to-night, said that Mme. Patti would start for New York to-morrow and would fill her engagement there as originally intended.

CATTLE FROM WALLA WALLA.

CHICAGO, April 1[illegible].—Twenty carloads of cattle from Walla Walla, Washington territory, have arrived at the stock yards. Ten carloads of the shipment belonged to Miss Mary Markner, who accompanied the drove. She is trying the experiment of shipping cattle [illegible] miles, and says that if it is a success financially she will ship 400 head more to this market. Miss Markner said the stock she brought with her is worth $9000 or $10,000.

THE 'TIMES' FOR SALE.

NEW YORK, April [illegible].—It is rumored to-night that the New York Times is for sale, and that George Jones has been trying for some time to dispose of it. The price he asks is $[illegible]0,000. Efforts are being made to form a syndicate to purchase it. Among gentlemen mentioned as having been asked to join the syndicate is Joseph W. Drexel, formerly of Drexel, Morgan & Co.

EX-SECRETARY FRELINGHUYSEN.

NEWARK, N. J., April [illegible].—Ex-Secretary Frelinghuysen is taking [illegible] little nourishment [illegible] extreme weakness, and is now gradually failing. There appears to be no immediate [illegible], but he is steadily growing worse.

RAILROAD NOTES

UNION PACIFIC EARNINGS.

BOSTON, April 1[illegible].—The annual report of the Union Pacific railroad was issued to-day. The gross earnings of the entire system were $2[illegible],791,[illegible]; expenses and taxes $[illegible],311,000; leaving net earnings of $10,0[illegible].

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—A Press New York special learns from [illegible] the officials that the story of the company requiring $5,000,000 to meet its accrued interest and expenses is utterly untrue. Confidence is expressed that the company will have no trouble in meeting its fixed charges this year.

VICE-PRESIDENT OAKES' REPORT.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1[illegible].—Vice-President Oakes of the Northern Pacific, who is in the east on business, states that up to the 1st of March the net showing of the road was fully $300,000 better than last year. From this may be deducted a falling off in March and April of say $275,000, making actual net results of the operations of the road to the 1st of May $25,000 better than for the like period in the previous year. "I am as confident as man can be of anything," said Mr. Oakes, "that we will have a surplus of at least $100,000."

A BROKER'S OPINION.

NEW YORK, April 17.—A well known broker who is largely interested in Pacific railroad stock says: "If the Pacific Mail could only cut loose from the whole transcontinental association, she would secure more California shippers in one day than the railroads can in one week. But the present combination of the Southern Pacific Company is too strong for any one line of steamers to cope with."

THE COLON REACHES NEW YORK

NEW YORK, April 17.—The steamer Colon of the Pacific Mail line, which was boarded by a crowd of insurrectionists under leadership of Preston at the port of Aspinwall on the 30th of last month, returned to this port to-day. The circumstances of the Aspinwall episode as related by the freight clerk of the Colon, Gustav Adolph Ziekwolf, are as follows: The Colon from New York arrived at Aspinwall early on the morning of March 30th. As a part of her cargo she had a number of rifles, revolvers and cartridges consigned to Preston. Immediately on arrival of the steamer Preston went to Captain Dow, commander of the Colon, presented a bill of lading, and demanded the delivery of the arms without any delay. They were stowed away in the hold with a lot of other cargo on top of them and could not be reached immediately. Captain Dow said so and promised to land them as early as they could be got at in the course of unloading. The rebel chief was not satisfied with this and insisted on immediate delivery. He was [illegible] to be attacked by the government troops [illegible] and he and his crew would regret it [illegible] denied them the arms. There would be [illegible] and the like of which had never been seen on the isthmus before. So saying he went ashore with his men and arrested Mr. Connors, the agent of the steamship company at Aspinwall; Captain Dow, general agent of the company; Mr. Wright, United States consul, and Lieutenant Judd of the United States war ship Galena, who happened to be there at the time. Having secured these hostages Preston sent a communication to the commander of the Galena, lying in the bay, intimating that he was about to board the Colon with his men, take possession of the arms covered by his bill of lading, and if the war ship interfered he threatened to kill the four hostages. The British man-of-war Lily was lying in the bay at the time.

The commander of the Colon, being cognizant of the threatened invasion of his ship, hoisted a distress flag as a signal to the Galena, from which he expected immediate protection. It was fifty men, two [illegible] and Preston with his men were on board, [illegible] among the cargo before the Galena moved. As soon as the British ship saw the Colon's signals it sent a message to the American man-of-war to offer assistance. FOREIGN DISPATCHES.

England Evidently Worsted by Russian Diplomacy.

TURKEY TO REMAIN NEUTRAL.

Full Particulars of the Recent Burning of Colon and the Outrages Inflicted on American Citizens and Interests.

LONDON, April 17.—Earl Dufferin in a dispatch to the home government regarding the Russo-Afghan boundary question, said in his opinion Penjdeh was not worth fighting for, as the ameer has had for a long time very little control over the tribes in its vicinity, that they were in continual state of revolt and the source of much uneasiness to the ameer. The latter he believed would willingly concede Penjdeh to Russia in the interest of peace, as it would also likely prevent cattle raiding on the border. It is now announced that the cabinet after discussing Dufferin's message adopted the same view.

THE AFGHANS RETIRING.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 1[illegible].—General Komaroff reported that the Afghans have evacuated all frontier posts, and that the Russian outposts occupy their former positions. General Komaroff states that he will proceed shortly to inspect his advanced posts.

It appears the above item originated in the central news agency. This was the agency referred to in Earl Granville's statement in the house of lords last night, in which he characterized their news as unauthorized and inaccurate reports.

BERLIN, April 17.—There was a very firm feeling on the bourse to-day as the result of the more favorable aspect of the Afghan question. At Frankfort on the Main an important advance in prices took place on the strength of hopeful news from London.

VIENNA, April 17.—The cheerful character of advices from London to-day had a marked effect on the bourse, and there was an important rise in prices.

GLADSTONE ANNOUNCES LUMSDEN'S REPLY.

LONDON, April 1[illegible].—Gladstone in the house of commons this afternoon stated that the government had to-day received from Sir Peter Lumsden a reply to their request for an independent report upon the Penjdeh incident. In this it is stated that General Komaroff was aware, at as early a date as the 28th of March, of the understanding agreed upon on March 1[illegible] between Russia and England. According to the terms of this understanding, England was to deter the Afghans and the czar was to deter his troops from advancing beyond the positions they then respectively occupied until some subsequent agreement about the demarcation of the Afghan frontier could be reached between the two governments. The battle on the Kushk river was fought therefore, several days after General Komaroff had been made aware of the agreement not to advance. It will be remembered that Captain Yates, a British officer who witnessed the battle, was assured by the Russian officer who commanded in the fight that he knew nothing of the understanding of March 1[illegible]. Sir Peter Lumsden's present report appears to warrant the inference that whatever General Komaroff knew officially about St. Petersburg's agreement with London he kept to himself.

Gladstone, being asked if the government had protested against the recent occupation of Penjdeh by General Komaroff and his establishment of Russian administration there, answered that the government had not yet made either occurrence the subject of official communication with Russia. The government was awaiting further information. The premier said concerning these events:

GLADSTONE CONTINUES.

For making Gladstone said: "We asked Sir Peter Lumsden for full and consecutive accounts of the events of the 30th of March, the day the battle on the Kushk was fought. A telegram has been received since we sent our request. The telegram is dated Tirpul, April 13th. It is in cipher and is now being deciphered. We shall be unable to say anything further upon this branch of the subject until this dispatch is fully deciphered. The fact that the Russian commander was aware of the agreement of the 1[illegible] of March before the 30th of March, and the question as to whether or not he acted upon instructions or contrary to instructions concerning that agreement, will form the subject of future communications between the government and Russia. In regard to the reported establishment of Russian administration at Penjdeh, the government knows nothing officially and must await fuller information." Gladstone concluded by saying: "The government will on Monday or Tuesday next ask the house to sanction a vote of credit. When this is requested we shall state how much money is wanted and what it is wanted for, and I then shall probably be able to cover the entire question fully."

Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice, under foreign secretary, in answer to an interrogatory put by Sir Stafford Norcote, in the commons said that the government considered Penjdeh in Afghanistan proper, but not far from the Russian frontier.

FROM THE "NEWS."

LONDON, April 18.—The Daily News this morning says that the government has not yet decided upon the amount of credit to be asked, which will depend upon developments between now and Tuesday. It is reported the amount will be £6,000,000. In an editorial the News says: "Belief that peace will be maintained increases—we trust that the belief will be justified. It is better to make needed concessions ourselves than to trust to the mediations of a third power. It is sometimes said that the frontiers of Russia and British India must soon be conterminous; that is probable. Russia is rapidly advancing into the intervening space. Such an event would probably be attended by some advantages. The subjection of pillaging Afghans, either to Russia or England, would doubtless improve their internal condition, but at present England is bound to respect and protect the integrity of Afghanistan, which would form a cheaper defense of India than would a long line of border fortresses and the increase of Indian garrisons, but would be needed if the frontier should be made conterminous."

ONE THOUSAND AFGHANS LOST.

The Times' St. Petersburg correspondent says: "Later details state that the Afghan losses by Russian bullets, cold and hunger amount to 1000 men. Sarik Turcomans, acting under advice of the Russians, pursued them also to Herat. It is rumored that the Sariks encountered a portion of Sir Peter Lumsden's convoy. They also burned his old camp. General Komaroff has appointed a Russian governor of Penjdeh and has put Sarik officials in [illegible] who are Russian subjects. Everybody here is convinced that if war breaks out the Russians will seize Herat before England can turn around. I have best of authority for stating that General Komaroff advanced in accordance with express orders from the governor of the Caucasus, and General Komaroff's telegram to St. Petersburg expressly stated this."

THE RUSSIANS RETIRING.

A dispatch to the Standard, dated Tirpul, April [illegible], states that the Russian troops have stopped advancing and are retiring to their former positions. General Komaroff, the dispatch says, has left Penjdeh.

TURKEY STANDS IN WITH RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 17.—It is stated that Turkey has positively assured Russia that in the event of war no English ironclad will be allowed to enter the Black Sea. Turkey has also declared that she could make the Dardanelles impassable in a few hours if necessary. The papers here to-day are chuckling over the fact that 300 English steamers are at present in the Black Sea and the Sea of Azov. The Turks are building forts at Batoum with the utmost rapidity.

PARIS, April 1[illegible].—Essad Pasha, Turkish ambassador, has been instructed that Turkey will maintain a neutral position in the event of war between England and Russia.

ZEBEHR PASHA'S CORRESPONDENCE.

GIBRALTAR, April 17.—The private correspondence of Zebehr Pasha, which was seized at the time of his arrest in Alexandria for treasonable intrigue with El Mahdi, has arrived here. It consists of an interpreter. The correspondence is all in Arabic and has been submitted to perusal of the governor of Gibraltar. Zebehr says there is nothing in the correspondence to show that he had any communication with El Mahdi. He also denies that he was in Egypt acting for the prophet and insists that he went from the Soudan to Alexandria for no other purpose than to transact some legitimate business.

AFGHANISTAN LOST TO ENGLAND.

VIENNA, April 17.—A telegram received here states that Afghan chiefs have sent a deputation to General Komaroff to announce their submission. It also says that a proclamation signed by the governor has been issued at Herat ordering that nobody be allowed to enter the citadel of that city, the gates to be closed from 7 P. M. to 5 A. M.; that no flour, cereals or other oil be exported; that caravans be permitted to enter the city only on special license; that all Russians be directed to present themselves to the governor and that every household have in readiness for service two well trained men.

The Tageblatt thinks that Afghanistan is lost to England.

BOMBASTIC TALK BY THE AMEER.

JAMROOD, India, April 17.—The ameer before departing to-day said that he had ordered his tribes to repair the road from Cabul to Herat, and that reinforcements had left Kandahar for Herat. He believed Russia might yield to remonstrances. Only, he said, when all arguments have failed, must war be considered, and then the Afghans will rise as one man to repel the invader. His policy was decided upon and would not be changed. His people must accept it as he had, and must trust him as he had been trusted by England. The Afghans would never surrender an inch of territory or allow their country to be a highway for the Russian army.

THE BURNING OF COLON.

Full Particulars of the Recent Conflagration—Fearful Scenes Enacted.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Advices by mail from Panama to the 8th inst. are received. The story of the burning of Colon, or Aspinwall, is given as follows: A lawyer named Preston seized the opportunity of the absence of the prefect of Colon with troops for the purpose of meeting General Aizpuru, who had attacked Panama, to seize the city of Colon. He levied forced loans and collected a mixed force, which caused much apprehension among merchants and citizens. On March 29 the Pacific Mail steamer Colon arrived with arms and ammunition. Preston demanded these munitions, and upon refusal of the demand by the Pacific Mail officers he imprisoned them. He sent word to the commander of the Galena that these prisoners would be released if the munitions of war were delivered to him, and they would be shot if any marines were landed. Commander Kane then took charge of Colon in the name of the United States. Preston subsequently had an engagement outside the city with troops from Panama and was defeated, the Pacific Mail officers escaping during the fight. About noon on the 30th, men from Panama, numbering some 150, advanced upon the town and a heavy fire ensued. The scene in the town beggars description. Bullets were flying in all directions and the terrified populace, abandoning homes and fortunes, were seeking safety in flight. The town was entirely constructed of wood and bullets passed through the houses as if they had been cardboard.

FLIGHT FLEE FOR THEIR LIVES.

When defeat became certain to Preston, the fires commenced. Preston is now, with many others, in close confinement. Directly one fire was started, a dozen were seen in different directions. A strong wind was blowing and a pandemonium affair robbery, shooting and misery ensued. All who could fled on board ship. Few saved anything. Thousands flocked to the new town, lately built by the canal company on ground they have formed at the entrance to the canal, whilst others took refuge in the few houses which remained standing on the beach. The machine shops and round houses of the latter company were fortunately saved, but an immense quantity of rolling stock was destroyed, together with local merchandise and transit cargo.

United States marines and sailors are reported to have acted admirably. Troops from the English gunboat Lily were also landed, and assisted in keeping guard. This guard caught many plunderers, as did also men of the Galena. All caught red handed were immediately tried and on the following day were shot. Fifty persons, among whom it is believed were several innocent people, were thus summarily dispatched.

MANY LIVES LOST.

During the fight between the troops which went hence and the Preston people some twenty or thirty persons were killed, while many more were wounded. All these were burned during the fire, and the charred remains of all yet encumber the streets.

Flames flashed through the houses, in hundreds of which powder, alcohol, liquors and general merchandise were stored in immense quantities, and the frequent explosions from these added terror to the scene. The panic stricken populace were almost without provisions or water for two days. The Panama railroad company's superintendent, Mr. G. A. Burt, and the director general of the canal company, M. Jules Dingler, have done everything in their power to alleviate misery and distress, and vessels in the bay of all nationalities were freely opened to the refugees.

FIGHTING AT PANAMA.

Whilst the troops recklessly taken from here by General Gonima to fight in the streets of Colon were thus leading to the destruction of that town, the streets of Panama were resounding with rifle shots. Conferences had been held during the day by commissioners sent hence to discuss matters with General Aizpuru. He, however, demanded the unconditional surrender of General Gonima, and threatened to attack the city unless he surrendered. Aizpuru sent a notice to this effect to foreign consuls. Gonima, however, declared he would not accept the challenge, but would remain inside the city and await results. By daylight armed men from Aizpuru's band had captured the steeples of Santa Ana church, and soon drove in Gonima's outposts. They then passed from church to church, and from street corner to street corner, a heavy and continuous rifle fire being meanwhile kept up. Most of the houses in Panama are built of stone, and afforded better protection to non-combatants than the buildings in Colon did. Ultimately the barracks in which General Gonima had shut himself were surrounded and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon he surrendered.

In all twelve persons were killed, and about an equal number wounded. The attacking party were orderly and sober. They were not soldiers but volunteers who, as they put it, fought for what they considered principle. Since that date the city has remained quiet.

Since the destruction of Colon an armistice has been agreed on for thirty days, and troops, under orders of the prefect, appointed by agreement of both parties, are to preserve order. Some marines are still on shore in Colon, where many are already clearing away the ruins prior to rebuilding.

Considerable excitement has been caused by the announcement that United States troops are en route for the isthmus.

THE LEADERS.

Ulloa, who is now in charge at Aspinwall, is a man who is reported to have cut the cable at Buena Ventura a fortnight ago. He did it to prevent news reaching here of his departure with troops for this place. Three months have elapsed since letters have been received from the capital. Much desultory fighting has taken place. It is said that the conservatives have captured Buena Ventura, and will advance on this place.

Gaitan, in charge of the revolutionary forces, is closely besieging Carthagena. He has taken possession of some of the principal forts, and has been shelling the town. It is stated that shells have burned the greater part of the city. The greatest distress prevails among inhabitants, who are said to be starving. How long the government troops will hold out it is impossible to predict.

American and English men-of-war have been of the greatest assistance to the unfortunate garrison. In fact the commander of one of the latter, Captain Curtis of the Canada, was the recipient of a letter from General Vila, who commands inside the town, in which he protested, in the name of human and divine authority, at the captain's prohibiting the disembarkment of arms on a spot the grounds of which the combatants have agreed with General Gaitan shall be considered a neutral zone, and on which 1000 refugees and non-combatants have massed, confiding in this promise. An English steamer, the Aleuo, sought to land arms and ammunition at this point, when she was promptly ordered off by the British cruiser. This aroused the ire of General Vila, who wrote a furious dispatch containing a declaration of war, which received no reply from Captain Curtis.

The United States man-of-war Shenandoah, her majesty's steamer Heroine and the French frigate Reine Blanche are in this city, while at Aspinwall there are the United States steamer Galena and the British gunboat Lily. The Wachusett left here on March 30 for a cruise along the Central America coast prior to proceeding to Mare Island for repairs.

THE PRESENT SITUATION.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The following telegram has been received from Colon: Troops by the Acapulco have arrived safely. There are 1[illegible]00 marines and sailors at the isthmus. The Colombian forces are marching on Panama. Aizpuru has threatened to burn the city. Ruiz and the rebel forces have started an armed schooner for Colon. The Galena has sailed to intercept them. There is a rebel camp near Colon. The Colombian authorities took 100 rebels and drowned them off Colon last night.

THE LATEST FROM PANAMA.

PANAMA, April 17 (via Galveston).—It is reported that Popoyan has again fallen into hands of the rebels. Many radicals are being imprisoned at Buena Ventura, contrary to the conditions of the surrender. Government troops at Buena Ventura are mutinous. Communication across the isthmus is uninterrupted. The health of the American troops continues excellent. A rumor prevailed here that 100 rebels had been drowned at Colon, but inquiry fails to confirm the report. The Colombian forces are not marching on the city, Panama being without transports. At Buena Ventura General Aizpuru is acting with great moderation, restraining his followers and trying to conciliate foreigners. Rumors circulating at Colon that Aizpuru has threatened to burn Panama are without foundation. Mails and passengers are arriving from Carthagena. A large number of troops are marching on that city from the interior, but making slow progress owing to the bad roads. The Panama railway company is repairing its wharves as fast as possible. Wharf No. 1 is advanced far enough to allow three steamers to discharge, while wharf No. 4 can accommodate two. The Royal Mail Steamship lines have done nothing yet toward restoring wharves. Passengers disembark in small boats. General Santo Domingo Vila, who was president for a short time during January, is expected to arrive on the isthmus soon, to attack Panama city. Meantime everything is quiet, awaiting events.

THE SOUDAN.

WILL TRY TO CAPTURE THE REBELS.

SUAKIM, April 17.—Three columns of British troops will advance from Suakim to Handoub and Otao respectively at daybreak to-morrow, and march toward Deberat in an endeavor to surround and capture Osman Digma's soldiers there.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 18, 1885

"PRESSURE" FOR PLACE

In an able report against the patronage system in 1882, Mr Pendleton said that "each president, however strong may be his personal characteristics, steps into a current, the force of which is constantly increasing. He can neither stem nor control it, much less direct his own course, as he is buffeted and driven hither and thither by its uncertain and unmanageable forces." The fatal mistake made by Garfield was in plainly acknowledging at the very beginning of his administration that he was compelled to remove a competent and satisfactory officer in one of the departments and appoint another man to the place, because the "pressure" was so strong. In making this acknowledgment he virtually said that all that was necessary for office seekers to do was to make the "pressure" strong enough. They were, therefore, encouraged to go to Washington and remain there and press their claims, as many of them did until the vengeance of disappointment was expressed by means of a bull-dog pistol. It is a question of much interest now to all patriotic citizens, as well as to the noble army of the "hungry and thirsty," whether President Cleveland will be able to resist pressure. He has apparently a great deal of physical vis inertiæ, and, unlike Garfield, his emotional nature is very unsusceptible. He has never had many warmly-attached friends, while Garfield was noted for the number of his "chums." But notwithstanding the fact that Cleveland is physically and socially better fitted to stem the current it will be a miracle almost if he does so. It is perhaps true that he will be able to resist personal pressure, but this is not the kind that he will feel the most. "If he does," said a conspicuous office-beggar, "we shall be defeated in the first election, and while Mr. Cleveland may add to his personal reputation, the party will not remain in power."

It is the pressure of the party to which the president is yet to be subjected, and this makes it more doubtful whether he will be able to persevere to the end. The remark we have quoted was made by a democrat, and taking his estimate of the character of the party that it is simply an organized appetite for office-holding, without a foundation of strength in any principle or policy of government, it is plain to see what a dilemma the president will be in when it becomes necessary for him and his cabinet to choose between its success and defeat. His course will be still more difficult because if he should persevere in the refusal to treat the public offices as patronage to be used for bribing party support, and thus gain the approbation of just and honorable men, he will still be unlikely to attach to his support any considerable number of republicans. The issue will continue to be the party rather than himself, and when he comes to realize this fact he may be forced to conclude that he can save himself only by protecting his party. If he adopts this conclusion he will be subject to a pressure the force of which is constantly increasing.

IS THERE NO REMEDY?

In the administration of our political affairs one must steer between two evils—on the one hand the mercenary office-seeking spirit, the bureaucratic spirit on the other. The evils of the so-called "spoils system" have never been exaggerated. The pressure for place runs through all our politics, from the election of town council to the presidency of the United States. It is said that senators at Washington, broken down by the mob of office-seekers, have recently been compelled to flee from the city as from the plague. Lincoln used to say that he was more annoyed by the office-seekers than by the anxieties incident to the rebellion.

But on the other hand there is objection among the people to permanency in office-holding. They object to it because they think that it will weaken their own influence and lessen their own importance in public affairs. They do not want to create a class who think that the government is made for them, and many say that of the two evils they would prefer the "spoils system," with its continual removals, to the dead weight of a "bureaucracy."

The reader now says, the country is in a quandary. It must take either one or the other horn of the dilemma—it must either have an office-seeking class or dead conservative officialism.

What can be done about it?

Two things. First, reduce the emoluments of office, so that the places in the public service will not yield more than men of common capacity—for such are most of our office-holders and office-seekers—can earn in other employments. Then there would not be so much striving for place. Second, reduce the functions of government. We are ruled too much and interfered with too much, and yet there are people of fair wisdom that would have an inspector placed over us, to tell us what flour we must eat, how to build our residence and what books should be read for our pleasure and instruction. This country is not suffering so much from bad officials, as too many of them created by our legislation. Every congress or legislature intermeddles to such an extent with private affairs that new officials must be created.

Much of our trouble arises, says a great modern thinker, as summed up by the editor of the Popular Science Monthly, from your having so many offices to dispose of and that comes of your having crowded so many functions upon the government. You have brought on a condition of things dangerous to the peace and stability of the state. Had you left to private initiative and responsibility a very large part of what you now place on the shoulders of the government, the office-seeking nuisance could never have grown to its present dimensions, nor could bureaucracy ever have been the incubus it now is on the life and energies of many communities. The organic growth of society is checked when you resort to what may, by comparison, be called the mechanical methods of legislation and governmental control. It is under the regime of freedom, not under that of compulsion, that social bonds are knit. If you would have virtue to grow strong, you must let it have its full value as virtue in the world, you must not try to equalize all varieties of character by repressive laws. If, however, you are determined to abandon organic methods, and to operate exclusively by means of the policeman's truncheon, more or less politely concealed, prepare yourselves for great convulsions, for the condition you will induce will not and cannot be one of stable equilibrium.

Some of the kind-hearted people of the churches, or Grand Army posts and other associations, have said in their resolutions of sympathy for the illustrious "old commander," "Whereas, it has pleased God to afflict General Grant," etc. The expression is a mistake. General Grant's affliction can hardly be due to the direct interposition of Divine Providence. So far as the physical causes of it can be ascertained, it is supposed to be due to excessive use of tobacco, and though this should not be dinned in his ears, yet as a warning against smoking, it is proper to make it generally known. If the matter be looked at aright, it is as impossible to conceive that it has "pleased God to afflict General Grant" as to suppose that it pleased him to cause the assassination of Presidents Lincoln and Garfield.

President Cleveland is going to appoint some "democratic niggers" to office in the south or rather, he is going to try to divide the colored vote of the south by turning out republican and appointing democratic negroes to office. Glad of it. It is a good way to lead to a division of the white vote of the south. But, let us gravely inquire, is this a white man's government? Are southern "niggers" to get office from a democratic administration, when the white democratic boys of worth can't come in to warm their toes?

The physicians in attendance on General Grant state that his continued improvement leads them to the belief that he will recover, notwithstanding what has seemed his utter defeat in the struggle for life. Should he do this it would afford another illustration of the truth of the adage, that "history repeats itself." The same thing occurred at the battle of Shiloh.

A week ago dogged war was bristling his angry crest and snarling in the gentle eyes of peace, in an encouraging manner. Now, his behavior looks like a comedy where a tragedy was expected, and the result is disappointing.

A significant point in relation to the bellicose utterances of the St. Petersburg Sve may be found in the fact that the editor of that paper is a brother of General Komaroff the Russian commander in Afghanistan.

"Old Grant" always had a way of coming off victorious after everybody else had given up the fight.

Great Anxiety Expressed for the Safety of General Middleton's Command.

WINNIPEG, April 17.—To-day has been one of suspense, as it was known that General Middleton would reach Clark's crossing some time this afternoon. Not a day has passed since he began his march without news being received from him, but up to a late hour to-night nothing has been received from him, and there is a general feeling of anxiety about his fate. Middleton himself expected a collision to-day or to-morrow. It may be the rebels are entrenched in the bush between Clark's crossing and Batoche's crossing, twenty-five miles up the river. The country there affords excellent facilities for sheltering the rebels, as it is covered with a bushy undergrowth. It was hinted that private messages hinted at capitulation between Middleton and the rebellion leaders, but the story is discredited. Many fear that the rebels have made a detour and attacked Middleton from the rear, in order to cut him off from communication and supplies. The absence of dispatches would indicate the destruction of the telegraph wire which it is essential to keep up in order that Middleton may communicate with the government.

Middleton is understood to have a way of eluding the rebels by making forced marches at night from Clark's crossing toward Prince Albert through the territory occupied by the Indians. He is anxious to form a junction with Irvine and relieve Prince Albert before giving battle to the rebels, as he fears that Riel, even if defeated, would retreat upon Prince Albert, sack the town and murder the inhabitants.

A HALF BREED'S STORY

[illegible] Middleton's scouts are not worth anything. They never sight the enemy, whereas the half breed scouts are constantly within range of the government scouts. Riel has every hope of starving the troops out by cutting off supplies.

The fact of the rebels crossing to the east side of the south branch in force, according to other reports, together with Welch's opinion of our scouts, gives his account an appearance of being reliable. According to Welch, Riel says that he will rule or perish, will be king or die. Welch says Riel also claims to have the promise of aid from Fenians and Irish malcontents, and says he is acting under divine instructions.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

ADMIRING THE WONDERS OF PORTLAND.—One who has spent all his life in a seaport town can have but little idea of how many things there are in such a place which interest visitors from the backwoods or far interior districts. There are now in this city two gentlemen from the arid plains of Colorado, Messrs. Geo. Ady and D. L. Sturgis, of the Union Pacific. The contrast between this "Garden spot of God's green earth," this land of flowers and fruits, and the wind swept plains of their own state is a constant source of wonder to them. But the shipping and the magnificent river are what chiefly excite their admiration and wonder. Their ideas of navigable streams have been formed from viewing Cherry creek at Denver after a cloud burst in the mountains and their knowledge of ropes from the riettas used by the cowboys, and the other ones used in suspending prominent citizens. They gaze in amazement at the forest of masts along our wharves, and the cobweb-like tracery of the rigging; the smell of tar is perfume and the clank of the windlass and the yeo-heave-oh of the sailors, music to their souls. They love to linger round fish markets and view the treasures of the briny deep and inhale the aroma of crabs, clams, oysters, and to make bets as to the weight of the succulent salmon and sturgeon. Yesterday they visited Markey's, and were lost in wonder and amazement at seeing some monster halibut. But a huge codfish was even more admired. Its shapely form and gorgeous hues made it a thing of beauty and a joy forever, but its mouth, which measured eighteen inches from ear to ear, if it measured an inch, fairly struck them dumb. But a young seal proved the greatest attraction of all. The manner in which Mr. Sturgis petted and fondled it and stroked its glossy coat, and hugged it and looked into its soft, dark eyes was a caution to all beholders and convinced them that if he was from the elevated table-lands of the interior this was not the first time he had clasped his arms around sealskin. The wondrous stories that these railroaders will tell when they get back to Denver will make every man in the town yearn to go to Portland.

M. S. BURRELL'S WILL.—The will of the late M. S. Burrell was admitted to probate in the county court yesterday. He bequeaths $1000 to the Portland Library Association to be applied in the purchase of steel engravings, mezzotints, etc. He also bequeaths $1000 to Isaac Dove, who is designated in the will as the "trusted porter" at the store of Knapp, Burrell & Co., in this city. Mr. Dove has been in the employ of the firm for many years, and his faithfulness and trustworthiness has been thus rewarded. The remainder of his entire estate is divided into five parts. Mrs. Burrell, his widow, gets one-third of the entire estate. The remaining two-thirds is equally divided between the four children—two sons and two daughters. In the estimate submitted the property is valued at $500,000. However, the estimate may be considered below the real value of the estate, which will probably reach $800,000. The appraisers appointed are F. H. Barnard, E. Oldendorf and D. W. Wakefield. The executors are D. P. Thompson and Walter Burrell (his son) without bonds. Mr. H. W. Wallace, who has long been in the employ of the firm of Knapp, Burrell & Co., will assume Mr. Burrell's place in the business carried on in this city under the direction of the executors, to whom he will be required to make returns and reports. Mrs. Griswold, a sister of Mrs. Burrell, and John Catlin are the witnesses to the will.

SOME REMEDY NEEDED.—The number of complaints filed at the office of the chief of police about nuisances in various parts of the city is very large. The greater number of these arise from the lack of sewers. There has been a great deal of money expended on street improvements, and in most, if not all, cases nothing is done toward laying sewers until after a street has been macadamized. Then the macadam is ripped up and the sewer put in to the great injury of the street, and the serious loss of property owners. It has been suggested that a reversal of this order of things might prove a benefit to all concerned. It would be of more real benefit to the residents of many streets to have a sewer put in than to have the street macadamized, and where both are to be done it would certainly be a saving if the sewer were laid first. The doing away with cesspools and other nuisances would be a great preventive of typhoid fever and kindred diseases, and if property owners could not afford to both put in sewers and improve the street the city could get along awhile without the improvement. At all events something should be done to put an end to the great number of nuisances now existing.

SAVED WORK, BUT LOWERED HIS PAY.—There is an old story about some ancient genius who was employed to turn a grindstone, and who adjusted a treadle to the crank by means of which he could turn the stone with his foot, and thus was enabled to amuse and interest himself by reading while at work. He was rewarded for his ingenuity by being discharged, his employer concluding that he could run the machine himself and save the wages of a man. A very similar case occurred in this section lately, which shows the truth of the adage "history repeats itself." A man who was employed to light some signal lamps on the river had to row out to them every evening and again in the morning to extinguish them. He perfected an arrangement by which the lamps extinguished themselves at the proper time, and he was thus saved his morning trip. He was rewarded after the style of his ancient prototype, his employer cutting down his salary to correspond with his work. It is sometimes a good thing not to be a genius.

ARRESTED FOR OVER EAGERNESS.—Complaints were lodged in the United States district court yesterday by District Attorney Watson against Thomas Ward, Mark M. Dee and Frank Silver, runners for Jim Turk's sailor boarding house at Astoria, charging them with boarding the American ship Tillie E. Starbuck within twenty-four hours after she reached port and soliciting seamen aboard the vessel to take lodgings in Turk's house. They were released on bonds, and will probably have trials to-day. There is no question of their guilt, but they seem to be ignorant of the law. Runners may board a ship before she reaches port, or twenty-four hours thereafter, provided the captain will permit them, but the statutes forbid them to go aboard during the first twenty-four hours. The penalty is a fine of not more than $50 or imprisonment no longer than six months.

DISSOLVING AN ATTACHMENT.—A horse belonging to R. Robinson, contractor, ran away yesterday with a road cart to which he was attached. That is to say, the horse was harnessed to the cart, he had no particular attachment to it, and though the attachment he did have was a legal one he dissolved it quicker than any judge in this judicial district could have done assisted by all the lawyers in the city. The animal chose for the act a rural district in the vicinity of G and Twenty-first streets, and he hung more pieces of the cart on more separate and distinct stumps in less time than the same amount of work was ever done in before. When he had disposed of the cart he buried himself in the mud of a small pond and it took half the neighborhood to pull him out, and then he looked like the original first horse which was made out of the dust of the earth, and had to be stood against a fence to dry.

ADMIRING THE "MANLY ART."—The crowd who happened to be in the vicinity of Flanders' dock yesterday were treated to an exhibition of boxing and a knock-out match free of charge. The disciples of the manly art were a pair of bold Britons who were considerably under the influence of bitter beer or some more potent stimulant, one of them being much more under the influence than the other. The noble marquis of Queensbury would have gone wild with delight to have seen the scientific manner in which his code of rules for regulating the practice of the "manly art" were carried out, and could not have been dissatisfied with the "head" which the more drunk of the two had put on him. The gusto with which the affair was witnessed shows that the art of beating a man has some admirers here.

SMALL RAILROAD STRIKE.—The train men on the Oregon Pacific railroad have struck, on account of not receiving all their pay. The company has been running a tri-weekly accommodation train, which has done a very good business, although the company has not yet put on its passenger coaches, of which it has several very good ones, with the necessary baggage cars, etc., sufficient to equip the road in good style. The trains so far have been made up of flat cars seated with benches. The action of the strikers is considered foolish, and the trouble will probably be settled and the men resume work at once. There will undoubtedly be a large travel to the seaside over this line this summer, and as the company have built the road, they can surely pay men for running it.

NO PUNISHMENT FOR EXTORTING BLOOD MONEY.—Several sailor boarding house keepers have tried recently to get even on rivals by bringing information to the United States court officers of such rivals having received "blood money" in violation of the Dingley act. But the efforts were fruitless. For some reason not easily explained the framers of the act did not get at the root of the evil—at least the evil as it exists in Portland—because the act provides only for the punishment of the man who pays blood money. Nothing is said about the shark who receives it. Of course no one is going to lodge a complaint against a shipmaster, so the traffic in sailors is carried on to as great an extent as ever in Portland, and the law offers no remedy.

EXCELLENT BOOKS MADE HERE.—A complete set of books of record, journals, dockets, indexes, etc., over three dozen in number, for the new county of Morrow, have been manufactured here. The paper, ruling, printing and binding are first-class and the books as a whole show that this city possesses facilities for turning out such work which are not surpassed on the coast. It has been the practice of many county officials in this state to order books for their offices from San Francisco. This should not be done in future, as there is no necessity for it and home manufacturers should be patronized. There is not a better or handsomer set of books in the state than those owned by the county of Morrow.

WANTS PAY FOR HOGS.—A good part of the time of the circuit court, department No. 1, was taken up yesterday in hearing the case of Victor Grufle, an Italian hog raiser, against Wong Lock to recover $[illegible], the value of sixty-eight hogs and other articles. Plaintiff claims that he gave the hogs to a Chinaman to sell on commission. The Chinaman made an assignment to Wong Fook and he sues the assignee. Defense claims that Grufle sold the hogs outright to the first Chinaman and that Grufle comes in only with the rest under of the creditors.

NOT TRUE BILLS.—Yesterday the grand jury returned "not a true bill" in the cases of G. W. Brady, sent up from the police court for assault with a dangerous weapon on Emil Weber, December 2[illegible], 1884; Frank Wall, sent up from Justice White's court for threatening to do bodily harm, March 14; E. Fusden, sent up from Justice Davis' court for the larceny of $[illegible] from H. Marks, April 10; James Jackson, sent up from Justice Davis' court for assault with intent to kill William Jackson, April 5.

FISH RECEIVED.—Several fine chinook salmon were received at this office yesterday, from Clifton. Just what grudge J. W. & V. Cook have against THE OREGONIAN is not known, but it looks as if they had put up a job to "salmon" the entire editorial, reportorial and managerial forces. It may be, however, that the intention was to increase the intellectual force of the establishment. Whether this end will be accomplished or not, the recipients of the royal fish are duly thankful.

MODELS FOR PILOT BOATS.—Captain J. A. Brown, one of the board of pilot commissioners, yesterday received models for two pilot boats to be used off the Columbia river entrance. One is intended to be 85 feet long, 20 feet beam and 11 feet depth of hold, and about 75 tons burthen. The other is nearly of the same dimensions, but slightly sharper. The cost of either boat will approximate $10,000. Captain Brown will go down to Astoria Monday and submit the models to the board.

INDICTED.—The grand jury yesterday returned indictments against Henry Bodner for assaulting Mrs. A. G. Wells, March 1[illegible]; Ah Yen for the larceny of thirty pounds of scrap iron from the warehouse of Knapp, Burrell & Co., March 26, and against Ah Fook for burglary in the residence of Ira Goodnough, April 10.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT MATTERS

Motion Day Changed from Monday to Saturday—Other Information for Lawyers.

Yesterday the following order was placed on the record of the state circuit court: "At this time it is ordered by the court that rule No. 1 of rules of this court be and the same is hereby amended by striking out the word Monday in the first line and inserting the word Saturday."

In other words, Saturday has been made the motion day instead of Monday. Motions which had been set for hearing Monday the 20th inst. will be heard Saturday the 25th.

Rule 5 was amended by striking out the word Friday in the fourth line and inserting Thursday, thus making the rule as amended: "No motion or issue shall be heard on any motion day except by consent of the parties unless the same shall have been entered on the motion book upon or subsequent to the last preceding regular motion day, and not later than the Thursday next preceding the hearing."

The trial docket in department No. 1 will be called Tuesday, April 21, and cases set for trial. Attorneys wishing cases set down are expected to be prepared with trial fees.

In department No. 2 Judge Stearns will announce a decision this morning in the case of Samuel Heiple vs. the city of East Portland, suit for injunction.

The Band of Hope will meet this afternoon at 2:30 in the W. C. T. U. hall on Fifth street. This is a splendid training school in temperance principles for the young and should be encouraged by a full attendance.

Constitutional Prohibition from a Lawyer's Standpoint, by Mr. Chilstrom at W. C. T. U. hall, on Fifth street to-night. Singing will commence at 7:30; address at 8 o'clock sharp. A lively time expected; free to all.

The Columbia is slowly rising and a few salmon have already been taken in wheels at the Cascades. In a few days it is expected that the river will be high enough to set all the wheels going, and then the slaughter will be immense.

A number of sportsmen will go down to Sauvie's Island on Sunday to give the wild geese a farewell benefit as they leave at once to fulfill an engagement in the arctic circle. There are slathers of them, so judging from the numbers now brought to market. One dealer received a hundred yesterday.

Thursday night the display cases of Abell & Son were broken into and several photographs of prominent people abstracted. It is a very annoying thing to have one's photograph hawked about, and the firm will pay liberally for any information leading to the arrest of the thief and the whereabouts of the photographs.

Strawberries and cherries were received by [illegible] yesterday and met with a ready sale at prices which show that hardtimes are a thing of the past. A week or two of bright sunshine will fill the markets with much riper berries and cherries from our own gardens and orchards, and the steamers and trains going [illegible] will carry the surplus of these fruits to the less favored regions along the line.

BAKING POWDERS

Interesting Tests Made by the Government Chemists.

Dr. Edward G. Love, the Analytical Chemist for the Government, has made some interesting experiments as to the comparative value of baking powders. Dr. Love's tests were made to determine what brands are the most economical to use, and as their capacity lies in their leavening power, tests were directed solely to ascertain the available gas of each powder. Dr. Love's report gives the following:

Name of the Baking Powders	Strength Cubic inches Gas per each ounce of Powder
"Royal" (cream tartar powder)	127.4
"Patapsco" (alum powder)	125.2
"Rumford's" (phosphate) fresh	122.5*
"Rumford's" (phosphate) old	32.7*
"Hanford's None Such," fresh	121.6
"Hanford's None Such," old	84.35
"Redhead's"	117.0
"Charm" (alum powder)	116.9*
"Amazon" (alum powder)	111.9*
"Cleveland's" (contains lime)	110.8
"Sea Foam"	107.9
"Czar"	106.8
"Dr. Price's" (contains lime)	102.6
"Snow Flake" (Groff's St. Paul)	101.88
"Lewis's Condensed"	98.2
"Congress" yeast	97.5
"C. E. Andrews & Co's" (contains alum)	78.17*
"Hecker's"	92.5
"Gillet's"	84.2
"Bulk"	80.5

*In his report, the Government Chemist says:

"I regard all alum powders as very unwholesome. Phosphate and Tartaric Acid powders liberate their gas too freely in process of baking, or under varying climatic changes suffer deterioration."

Dr. H. A. Mott, the former Government Chemist, after a careful and elaborate examination of the various Baking Powders of commerce, reported to the Government in favor of the Royal brand.

Prof. McMurtrie, late chief chemist of the U. S. Government at Washington, says: "The chemical tests to which I have submitted the Royal Baking Powder, prove it perfectly healthful, and free from every deleterious substance."

That wonderful catholicon known as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given the lady a world-wide reputation for doing good. It is a living spring of health and strength.

THE STAGE.

THE DANITES.—A vivid wholesome drama is The Danites. It depicts the half savage life of the mining camps in bold striking colors. Pathos and humor are adroitly blended and the movement of the play is direct and rapid. There is something intensely dramatic in the idea suggested by the crafty and unrelenting pursuit of the [illegible] family by the chosen avengers, or destroying angels of the Mormon church. With this drama the name of Mr. and Mrs. Rankin is closely identified. Those admirable artists have produced it with unbounded success in all the leading theaters of this country and are among the very few American players who have won hearty recognition in England. A few years ago they played The Danites at Sadler's Wells theater, London, subsequently transferring it to other city theaters and through the British provinces with great financial results. It was this acting which chiefly concerned the fine audience at the New Market last night. Mrs. Rankin's [illegible] Those who have seen her [illegible] the power and feeling which characterized her personation of the [illegible] girl hunted down by the Mormon avengers and seeking safety in boyish garb among the rude miners [illegible] Mr. McKee Rankin, who gave such a fascinating [illegible] of the broken down old [illegible] presented [illegible] Sandy McGee, a widely different type of mining character. The two [illegible] are diametrically opposed but Mr. Rankin portrays them with equal skill. The members of this remarkable company strengthened lusty types of [illegible] are all well placed in The Danites. Mr. Hamilton as the rough and uncouth but good hearted Parson, Frank Mordaunt as the [illegible] Judge and Mr. Holland as the [illegible] personation of lazy awkwardness [illegible] all gave marked individuality to these characters. Miss Isabel Morris, late of the Baldwin theater Company, made her local debut as the gentle and winsome school mistress, and proved herself an actress of charming and natural [illegible] Two [illegible] actors, Messrs. D. H. Harkins and J. J. Wallace, played the Danites. Each presented a very remarkable piece of character acting. The play was received with enthusiasm and recalls were numerous. Its final representation occurs to-night. At the matinee this afternoon [illegible] will be given for the last time and the advance sale indicates a rush. Next week the Rankin Company closes its engagement with a production of "Storm Beaten."

BESSIE LOUISE KING'S BENEFIT.—At the benefit last evening to Bessie Louise King, the opera "Prince Methusalem" was repeated in a much more pleasing style than on a previous presentation. The house was filled to its utmost capacity, the attendance having been estimated by Mr. Gross at 1500. It was a night of good feeling and of presentations. Miss King's singing of "The Suwanee River" aroused enthusiasm to the highest pitch and she was thrice recalled by thunders of applause. Mr. Kinross was presented with an elegant baton handsomely tipped with gold, by his professional friends through Miss King. Among the many beautiful tributes of flowers presented Miss King was one bouquet containing a diamond pin, which was taken out and placed in her crown as the prima donna. Miss Winston's solo, "When the Leaves Begin to Fall," came in for rapturous applause and several handsome floral tributes. Miss Edgar too was generously remembered with flowers. Mr. Ball at the conclusion of his "Doblets" was presented by his friends of the Casino company with an elegant gold vest chain and diamond set charm, Mr. Kinross making the presentation with a "Doblet" verse amid great cheering. Miss Winston was presented by Miss Edgar with a set of hand painted collars and cuffs of exquisite design. Mr. Hageman was greeted with flowers, and every one of the principals was called on for a short speech. It was a regular love feast all the way through, the interruptions occasioned by the presentations breaking up the people just enough for the audience to enjoy it.

THE SUMMER OPERA SEASON.—Next Tuesday evening the summer season at the Casino will open with "The Royal Middy," on which occasion Louise Lester, Hattie Moore, Miss Neville Courtney and Mr. Edwin Stevens will make their first appearance. The box sheet will be open at 8 o'clock this morning. It has been moved from Morse's to Jones Bros.' No. [illegible] First street.

THE TIVOLI.—"Hearts of Oak or the Mariner's Compass," is still attracting good audiences at the Tivoli. It will be given at the matinee to-day, when the children will have an opportunity of seeing Little Gracie as Hetty. It is a remarkable piece of child's acting.

NEW DEPARTURE.—Manager Clinton next week will take a new departure at the Tivoli in the way of a variety entertainment. He has engaged the Berlin lady orchestra, the California marvels and Hindoo jugglers, who arrived by yesterday's steamer.

HOLLAND.

A VERY ROTTEN FAILURE.

THE HAGUE, April 17.—The Hague banking company has failed under circumstances indicating criminal misuse of its funds. Menheir Folak, the manager, is in South America. Menheir Wolff, sub-manager, fled to Antwerp when it became impossible to conceal the company's condition and committed suicide in that city. The amount of liabilities has not been ascertained.

QUARANTINE AGAINST CHOLERA.

LONDON, April 17.—The governments of France, Holland, Portugal and Turkey have declared quarantine against all vessels arriving from Spanish ports on account of a cholera epidemic on the southern and eastern coasts of Spain.

CANADA.

REAL DAMAGE FROM FLOOD.

[illegible], Ont., April 17.—The damage caused by the flood is much greater than was supposed last night. Many dwellings, barns and other buildings have been wrecked and fences and trees are prostrated. The water rose so rapidly the people had to leave their dwellings very hastily without saving anything. One woman was nearly killed by a cake of ice forcing open her door and pinning her to the floor. A large number of cattle, pigs and sheep perished. The loss is estimated at $100,000. This afternoon the jam moved down stream [illegible] yards, and the water fell three feet.

ARIZONA

STAGE ROBBERS MAKE A RICH HAUL.

PHOENIX, April 17.—The stage from Vulture was held up last evening about forty miles from here by two masked men supposed to be Mexicans. Guard J. M. Hearn was taken by surprise, as the robbers had rifles leveled on him before he saw them. They took the express box containing a gold bar valued at about $2400. They also took a watch from the driver and a gun from the messenger. The sheriff has started for the scene of the robbery.

Notwithstanding Pacific coast stocks are reported very light, sales have been made of good Columbia river brands at $1 [illegible] delivered here by rail. This is probably due to the cut rate obtained by shippers from the railway company. Retailers here are selling two one pound tins for twenty five cents. Some are moving fifty cases per week, the brands covering Alaska packed, which is of good color and texture, but lacking in oil and flavor. Nevertheless it displaces a certain amount of Columbia river stock. It is a question, however, if in the end this cheaper or inferior salmon will not cause consumers to loose confidence in the article or rather the [illegible] of a frequent diet.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS.—Past 24 hours: 415 ctls wheat, 60 ctls oats, 111 cs eggs, 40 bxs fruit, [illegible] pkgs butter. Also 4410 ctls wheat, 240 bbls flour, 684 ctls barley, 40 [illegible] wool, 948 lbs hides from the eastern section.

WHEAT.—Lower values reported from abroad with markets weakening as the day advanced. Political affairs are more quiet and the war feeling seems to be about lost. Of course everybody expects to see values fall back rapidly under this car[illegible] turn, but everybody may be disappointed to some extent. Chicago is steady after the decline of yesterday. San Francisco sellers are showing more disposition to let go and prices are lower. The local market responds after a manner to advices but shows no actual change and offerings do not promise to be free.

POTATOES.—Weaker under advices and the tendency is toward lower values.

CHICKENS.—Steady at $4@[illegible]

EGGS.—Market slowly assuming better shape, but 12c is still quoted. Lowest sales of late were at 11c, and this figure has not been touched in nine years when it was accepted in one instance.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Government bonds steady at unchanged quotations, except a further advance in 3s to 101½ bid. Railway bonds have been somewhat more active, business being well distributed, with total sales of 1,013,000, an increase of 165,000. Prices were irregular this evening, but many cases higher.

The peaceful tenor of early cables and the [illegible] in British consols led to a depression [illegible] prices in the stock exchange this morning, first sales being made at a decline of ¼ to ½ per cent, and in the early dealings still lower prices were made for the active list, but the decline was quickly checked and there was a fractional rally before the close of the first half hour. The market then became less active without the development of any special feature, and so continued during the [illegible] er part of the day, with a slight yielding in quotations. There were not many stocks in which extreme fluctuations amounted to as much as 1 per cent, and only four show a decline of 1 per cent. As compared with last evening all the active list is lower, however.

The executive committee of the Union Pacific Company met to-day and approved the plan recently proposed for a settlement of the difficulties between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Pacific railroads. It is also learned that a communication has been received from President Adams of the Union Pacific railroad in regard to the proposed plan of settlement, and the matter has been transferred to the traffic managers of the different roads for consideration and report.

The Whites Determined to Rule

Vicksburg Commercial Herald.

It is [illegible] more certain than that the whites will rule in this country. This is not only [illegible] fixed fact in the south, it is [illegible] by the north. It is now known to be the best for both races and the only safeguard against the many dangers of ignorant suffrage. This must be [illegible] the basis of any discussions or arrangements between the races. This can be [illegible] and yet the colored citizens may be given representation. It will in our opinion be safe to give them representation in proportion to the intelligent and capable among them when they desert their white bosses, but not until then.

A Dig at Democratic Pretensions

Boston Herald (Mugwump).

A democratic journal commenting on the appointments [illegible] [illegible] made [illegible] that there will be [illegible] change for the better in the character and capacity of the official class. To [illegible] pharisaism is as contemptible in a democrat as in a republican. The party in power will be very fortunate if it shall maintain the "character and capacity of the official class" at the present standard. It is proper enough that there should be changes made after twenty five years of proscription of one party, but the average democrat is no better or more capable than the average republican—and in some communities not so good.

An Uncomfortable Question for Mugwumps

New York Sun (Ind. Dem.)

The next election of this state will test the quality of the mugwumps. If they mean, as some of them seem to mean, to be independents continuously, and to pick out in each election the ticket that suits them best, for whom will they vote for governor if the republican candidate happens to be a known friend of their Alpha and Omega, Potomian [illegible] service reform. If he should be more of a civil service reformer than his democratic opponent, would they vote for the latter?

The political astuteness of Mr. Daniel Manning, which amid the [illegible] of the world won him his promotion from being the head of an Albany bank to being the head of the United States treasury department, is now to be seen and appreciated of all men as it was before by Messrs. Removes Tan, Pimples, Freckles, Moth Patches, Rash and Skin Diseases, and every Blemish on Beauty, and defies detection. It has stood the test of 30 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure the preparation is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. The distinguished Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut ton (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all skin preparations." One bottle will last six months, using it every day. Also Poudre Subtile removes superfluous hair without injury to the skin. Mme. M. B. T. GOURAUD, Sole Pr., 48 Bond St., N. Y.
